POTTERY

Our Philosophy

The Arts & Crafts movement upheld certain ideals including high quality craftsmanship and uncompromised creativity in small studio settings.

We at Door Pottery, keep our staff and studio small to ensure that we stay connected to pottery as a process.

It is important to us to maintain a level of exceptional quality while encouraging creative expression.

As a result, each piece of pottery is an original work of art, as unique as the artist who made it. No two pieces that leave our studio are exactly alike. The beauty of our blended glazes is in the differences, and the intriguing charm of our decoration is in the details.

We are proud of what we do, and are pleased to bring you Door Pottery...

Timeless Art...From our hands to your home.

From the Trees

FROM THE TREES

High above in the canopy, another world exists, another language is spoken. Wind sings through the pines and the sun sifts through the ginkgoes. As the seasons change and green turns to gold, so too, does the sun set and the world shapes a different silhouette, as the moon rises and the bats fly.

Bountiful Blossoms

Every bloom opens a different memory: The rolling red waves of Italian poppy fields, or a handful of sunflowers from the farmers market. Throughout time flowers have always held special significance. We are delighted to have captured the delicate beauty of a few to grace your home.

Wetland Wonders

In the stolen moments of summer, by the pond's edge, everything slows to a languid pace. Hearing the quiet hum of dragonflies and the soft rustle of cattails in the humid breeze, we find time to enjoy life's simplicity.

Cincinnati Style

During the mid-teens C.S. Todd and W.E. Hentschel of Rookwood pottery captivated collectors with an innovative new style. Hallmarked by multicolored dripping glazes and stylized carving, we simply refer to these pieces as "Cincinnati Style". We've paired classic motifs with our incredible glazes to bring you our version.

TILE

In trying to diversify our pottery line, we are pleased to be making tile true to the traditional look of art tile from the Arts & Crafts era. Each handmade tile has its own twist of originality with slight variations in glaze and form. While the beauty of our crystalline matte glazes will bring you pleasure for many years to come, they are not suitable for wet areas like bathrooms or kitchens. Please call the studio if you have a need for watertight tile.

Tile Frames

Dard Hunter Studios Legacy Frames are a handsome way to finish our tile and create an heirloom piece for your home. The frames are constructed of 3" quarter sawn white oak and finished with their 4-step Signature process revealing the depth and beauty of the wood. With a slight bevel towards the center to accent the tile, these frames are simply stunning.

Specialty Tile

In 2006 we introduced our first specialty tile, Bayou's Bounty. We plan to bring you a new tile each year that is only available for a limited time. Starting with our 2007 Garden's Pride tile, we have added markings to help easily identify it as a specialty tile. You will find our distinctive 3 ginkgo leaf logo with the year.

There is also a number indicating its place in the total number made. Check our website for custom framing.

Pottery Care

Our Faience Glazes are all crystalline mattes. With the look and feel of antique pottery, these special glazes require the same delicate care. They are not watertight or food safe. To preserve your piece, dust with a dry or slightly damp soft cloth. To avoid ink transfer newsprint should not be used to wrap these pieces.

Studio Pottery

The lifeblood of our studio is creativity. Having the opportunity to stretch artistically is vital to our artisans. Studio pieces are one of a kind works that reflect the creative individuality of the artist. They will be signed along with the words Studio Pottery. In 2007 we added a stamp with our distinctive 3 gingko leaf logo. Because there are so few of these made, we typically only bring them to the shows we attend throughout the year. For further information, please contact the studio.

Paul Revere

At the turn of the century, Hull House in Boston was home to a girls club focused on teaching life skills and cultural enrichment. Their Saturday group of young women concentrated on making and decorating pottery to be sold in the Bowl Shop of their Paul Revere Pottery. The charm and whimsy of Saturday Evening Girls (SEG) pottery have enchanted collectors for years. We hope you enjoy the traditional themes we have chosen for our SEG pieces. All designs are available in a watertight green or blue glaze.

Porcelain

After 25 years in engineering, Kyle Kreigh turned his talent for precision and meticulous detail toward ceramics. Working almost exclusively in porcelain he set out to produce “art to live with”. Complete bathroom ensembles, from tile to hand thrown sinks, became his specialty. Always looking to grow creatively, sharing studio space with Door

Pottery offered an opportunity to explore new directions.

Inspired by the works of Adelaide Robineau, the pieces Kyle creates for Door Pottery feature exquisite carving, beautiful crystalline glazes and elegant form. Each work is a masterpiece. We always have a selection of Kyle’s work at shows, in the studio, and at our company store.
